

Price $6.00

HERPETOFAUNA

Volume 31 Number 2

December 2001

A Northern Bluntspined Monitor Varanus primordius. See paper on page 126. (Photo: G. Husband)

A Short Tailed Pygmy Monitor Varanus brevicauda. See paper on page 92. (Photo: R. Jackson)

CONTENTS

Volume 31 No 2

Surveys of reptiles and amphibians at Razorback Nature Reserve, Keeverstone State Forest and the Abercrombie Caves region of New South Wales by Garry Daly, Michael Pennay and Carl Gosper	82
Survival technique by a Short Tailed Pygmy Monitor Varanus brevicauda in a flood situation by Richard Jackson	92
Observations of the foraging behaviour of adult Green and Golden Bell Frogs (Litoria aurea) by Anne Miehs and Graham H. Pyke	94
Observations of unusual Adelotus in the Carnarvan Ranges, Queensland by Ken Griffiths	97
Predation by Water Skinks (Eulamprus quoyii) on tadpoles and metamorphs of the Green and Golden Bell Frog (Litoria aurea) by Graham H. Pyke and Anne Miehs	99
Mite infestations in Australian skinks: seasonal, geographical and ecological variation by Banshi Shah	102
A novel nesting habitat for Krefft's Turtle (Emydura krefftii) by Bernadette Carter and Anton D. Tucker	108
Fatal ingestion of a large prey item in the Scrub Python (Morelia kinghorni) by Grant Turner	112
Multiple lizard species occupying the same retreat sites by Robert A. Valentic and Grant S. Turner	116
Eel and tadpole predation by Red-Bellied Black Snakes by A.W. White	119
A new locality for the rare Green-thighed Frog (Litoria brevipalmata) in south-east Queensland by Jason Richard	123
Natural history and captive maintenance of the Northern Bluntspined Monitor Varanus primordius by G.A. Husband	126
An ovigerous Argus Monitor, Varanus panoptes panoptes by Glenn M. Shea and Ross A. Sadler	132
A record number of eggs laid by an Australian native frog species by Vivien Brown and Michael J. Tyler	134
Nocturnal activity of a diurnal skink, the Eastern Blue-Tongue (Tiliqua scincoides) by Cliff Hobden	136

HERPETOLOGICAL NOTES

Erratum: A record of high frog species diversity from Mitchell grasslands of southwestern Queensland, by R. A. Palmer and S. A. Pidcock	138
Book Review	139

ISSN 0725-1424

Printed by Little Green Frog Print, Sydney (02) 9439 6122